HOT WATER as a Remedy for Indi-
Third Edition. Price 4d.; per post, digestion, Corpulence, &c., by Dr. Butler, of New York. The Salisbury Methods of Treatment of Disease. By one who has tried them (C. E.
London: SIMPKIN, MARSHALL, and C.
Lancaster: E. and J. L. MILNER.

5 Calle de Lista

Barrio de Salamanca

Madrid April 5/86

My dear Mr Forman

I enclose you the Certificate, and should be greatly obliged if you would send me by post "The Hot Water Remedy for Indigestion" per I am much inclined to try it. I hear occasionally from Mr Thomas; but I fancy the £200 is likely to remain in Chancery till Doomsday. It is a pity for it would have been most useful to me.

He intends to put an advertisement in the Daily Telegraph for the next of kin of Rawlings

With kind regards to all

Believe me to remain

Yours most sincerely

J Keats de Lamas

H Buxton Forman Esq^{re}

ans?
6.7.86

5 Calle de Lista
Barrio de Salamanca
Madrid June 29th

My dear Mr Townsend

Will you have the kindness to send me two or three mission certificates as I am without any.

What do you think will be the result of the new elections, will Gladstone triumph, and is it desirable that he should? I greet all as nothing this statesman more with the greatest enthusiasm, and hope most sincerely that he may triumph, if it may be for the good of England as well of Ireland. How is your daughter, has she become stronger? All the family join in kind remembrances

Believe me to remain

Yours very sincerely

J Keats de Linares